Advanced AOP technology

Our air conditioning and heat duct air purification systems use the advanced AOP (Photohydroionization) technology, which significantly reduces odors, pollutants, VOC's, smoke, mold, bacteria and viruses in indoor air.

The HVAC-AOP cells are easy to mount into air conditioning and heating systems air ducts, where most sick buildings' problems originate. When the HVAC system is operating, the Clean Air HVAC-AOP cell creates an advanced friendly oxidation process consisting of hydroperoxides, ozonide ions, super oxide ions, and hydroxide ions.

These friendly oxidizers revert back to oxygen and hydrogen after the oxidation of the pollutant.

Clean Air HVAC GA models are suitable for larger spaces, producing up to 40,000 m³ of purified air per hour.

See technical specifications for more details.

The AOP cell unit size is scaled to accommodate the various air flow rates of different HVAC systems. Locate the air blower capacity of your HVAC system, then choose the Clean Air HVAC-AOP model that corresponds that flow rate.
